CyberWatch West Community College Internship Model

Introduction

An internship is work experience characterized by intentional learning. During this experience, the student assumes a responsible role in an organization and actively reflects on what they are observing and learning. One of the key goals of an internship is to provide the opportunity for the student to make a connection between their academic preparation and the professional workforce.

Internships can take place in a variety of settings, from corporations, banks, publishing houses, and marketing firms to television studios, human service agencies and research institutes. Students may or may not receive remuneration.

Three essential elements distinguish an internship from a short-term job or volunteer work:

1. the student’s academic brought to the practical experience
2. active student reflection during the internship
3. learning outcomes demonstrating the learning accomplished as it relates to the student’s academic discipline

Planning is key to a successful internship and the commitment of the student, the worksite supervisor, and the faculty internship coordinator. A learning contract stating the objectives, nature of the work, and learning outcomes is the best way to achieve this agreement in advance. Students register their internships for academic credit and submit learning objectives which relate the practical experience to their academic work.

The following pages are intended as an internship guide for students, employers, faculty members, and worksite supervisors to make the internship a positive experience for all involved. They are intended to help all parties involved understand needed policies, roles and expectations, and to assist in the planning process.
Sources of Internships
Identifying employers that can offer internship opportunities can be quite daunting when launching your internship program. Suggested sources for internships are:

- Alumni – who else understands your program better than someone that has been through it. Remember that your students are the best marketing tool to employers.
- Campus Career Center – department on your campus that employers contact to hire from multiple majors.
- Faculty – employers may have connected with faculty teaching classes with those skills needed for their open position.
- Industry – employers with a need to fill open positions.
- Professional Associations – ISACA, ISSA, ISC(2), HTCIA members are an excellent resource.
- Chamber of Commerce – where local businesses meet to network and help further local business.
- Any other organization where businesses meet such as the Rotary Club and Kiwanis.

Needed Roles in an Internship Program
Three core roles are needed for a successful internship program:

- Students
- Employers with Worksite Supervisor
- Faculty Internship Coordinator

Guidelines and criteria should be clearly outlined to ensure that all expectations and responsibilities are clearly outlined.

Student Guidelines and Criteria
All students participating in your internship program should meet minimum requirements to ensure that the internship will not negatively impact their classes and provide a positive experience for the employer. The following student criteria and guidelines are suggested to participate in a credit-granting internship opportunity:

- Please note that although the community college faculty and staff will assist you in finding an internship worksite, ultimately it is up to the student to find an internship
- Currently employed and understand that past work experience DOES NOT qualify for internship credit
- Be currently enrolled at the community college and enrolled in the appropriate internship class
- Internship experience be in their major
- Have completed at least two courses in their major prior to commencing their internship
- Maintain at least a cumulative 2.0 GPA
- Internship must be in a supervised setting
- Assume all inherent risks while completing the internship
- Agree that a family member may not be an immediate supervisor
- Submit completed enrollment forms and follow procedures prior to beginning your internship
- Work the total number hours required based on enrolled units
- Submit time sheets signed by your Worksite Supervisor/Employer
- Complete all assignments on time to your Faculty Internship Coordinator
- Notify Faculty Internship Coordinator of any changes in job, supervision, address, phone number, or email
- Maintain a good behavioral standing with the community college during the internship
CyberWatch West Community College Internship Model

- Agree that the opportunity for completing a future internship will be lost if a commitment to an employer is made and then broken by the student

Employer Guidelines and Criteria
Employers are entrusted to develop students while providing quality work products for their organization. The following criteria and guidelines are suggested to participate in the internship program.

- Clearly outline intern responsibilities during the recruiting and selection process
- Develop learning outcomes with the student intern clearly and in writing
- Assign a Worksite Supervisor responsible for the day-to-day oversight of the student intern
- Approve intern time sheets in a timely manner
- Perform student intern evaluations during the internship period that is documented, discussed with the intern, and submitted to the Faculty Internship Coordinator
- Periodically communicate with the Faculty Internship Coordinator during the internship on the progress being made on the learning outcomes
- Provide a safe work environment
- Maintain a good standing with the community college. Commitments made to the student have not been broken except in extreme circumstances.

Faculty Internship Coordinator Guidelines
The Faculty Internship Coordinator is the instructor of record for the learning experience. The following faculty criteria and guidelines are suggested when coordinating an internship program.

- Assist the intern and employer in the formulation of attainable and measurable learning outcomes
- Ensure that all required forms are completed wholly and on time
- Meet with the internship students (either in person or online) to discuss their progress toward completing the learning objectives and written assignments
- Conduct at least one (or more) worksite visit(s) which provides the opportunity for the Faculty Internship Coordinator and Worksite Supervisor to meet face to face and discuss the student’s progress toward achieving the learning objectives
- Assign the student’s final grade for the internship course
- Cultivate relationships with potential employers through the sources mentioned earlier

The following suggested process details the steps for faculty supervision of a student intern:

Step 1: Faculty Internship Coordinator
Agree to serve as a Faculty Internship Coordinator for the internship class.

Step 2: Networking
When possible, help the student in securing internship opportunities. Identify resources (e.g., Campus Career Center, job search databases, networking opportunities, professional association volunteer opportunities etc.) available to students.

Step 3: Student Learning Objectives (SLO)
Work with the student to develop the Internship Worksite Proposal / Student Learning Objectives contract (please see the Forms section for an example). This assistance includes helping the student formulate learning outcomes and academic assignments, as well as, negotiating the level of supervision and methods of evaluation.
Step 4: Worksite Visits
The Faculty Internship Coordinator will conduct at least one (or more) worksite visit(s). The worksite visit provides the opportunity for the Faculty Internship Coordinator and the Worksite Supervisor to meet in person to discuss the student’s progress. The student does not need to be present when the worksite visit occurs. Contact the Worksite Supervisor within the first six weeks of the semester. The Student, Worksite Supervisor, and Faculty Internship Coordinator signatures are required on the completed SLOs.

Step 5: Communication
Maintain appropriate contact with the intern and Worksite Supervisor throughout the duration of the internship. Initiate a phone call to the student intern and Worksite Supervisor sometime during the first ten days of the academic term to establish contact and communication.

Step 6: Writing Assignment
Meet with the student intern monthly to review the internship experience. It is recommended that you meet with your internship students in a group. Peer review and sharing the experience can be a valuable learning tool and facilitates effective learning.

Step 7: Evaluation
Meet with the student intern at the end of the internship to review the student’s work and to provide closure to the process.

Step 8: Final Grades
Verify student enrollment, evaluate student performance, review the employer/worksite supervisor evaluation, determine whether credit should be granted and submit a final letter grade.

Internship Tracking Resource
A critical part of any internship program is the tracking of employment opportunities, students eligible and interested in an internship, and a history of those students that have completed an internship. Most college campus Career Centers use a software package, like Symplicity, to connect students with employers. Students can create profiles, upload resumes, and provide work samples for employers to review. Employers can post open opportunities for students in multiple colleges and majors, review student resumes, and receive resume books. Some applications can also manage the workflow of the required documents for students and employers as a record of the internship activity.

In Summary
Internship experience complements the learning in the classroom. It provides real-world experience and helps students explore employers, industry segments, career paths, and work environments. If your college is seeking to start an internship program, contact CyberWatch West for assistance.
Sample Forms

Several forms should be generated for documenting the items mentioned previously. The following forms are based on forms developed at Fullerton College and Cal Poly Pomona. At a minimum, versions of the seven forms below should be created.

The forms in this publication are provided as examples only. The wording in any agreement should be reviewed by your Legal/Risk Management Department before you use it in any official capacity.

- Internship Application completed by the student prior to obtaining an internship or enrolling in the internship class. The Faculty Internship Coordinator will verify the information supplied and approve the student’s internship eligibility.
- Worksite Proposal/Student Learning Objectives completed by the student and employer to establish learning objectives used to evaluate the student. The Faculty Internship Coordinator should be the last approval signature obtained on this document.
- Confirmation of Placement Form should be completed by the student and signed by the Employer and Faculty Internship Coordinator, as a record of, acceptance of the guidelines and criteria established by the internship program.
- Student Assumption of Risk, Liability Waiver, and Release Form that has been reviewed and approved by your college’s Legal/Risk Management Department.

Learning Objectives:
Internship learning objectives identify what the student learns throughout the internship by connecting competencies to specific projects or tasks. Learning objectives should be written by the intern in conjunction with his/her supervisor and should be specific to the student’s field, or more general skillsets he/she wants to enhance. It’s important to make sure the learning objectives are measurable and achievable. Learning objectives also provide supervisors with concrete examples for evaluation purposes, both midway through the internship, as well as, at the conclusion of the experience. Develop one learning objective per unit of internship class registered (one-sentence statements of skills YOU want to gain or enhance through this experience). I understand that I must submit a minimum of 1 approved learning objectives per unit before I am enrolled in the internship course.

What are they?
Internship learning objectives help the student identify what he/she is learning throughout the internship experience by connecting competencies to specific projects or tasks. Key skills he/she will be gaining throughout the experience should be identified. Learning objectives also provide supervisors with concrete examples for evaluation purposes, both midway through the internship, as well as, at the conclusion of the experience.

How do you write them?
Learning objectives should be written by the intern in conjunction with his/her supervisor. The student should identify four key elements they hope to learn while completing their internship. These skills can be specific to the student’s field, or more general skill sets he/she wants to enhance. It’s important to make sure the learning objectives are measurable and achievable.

Once the learning objectives are identified, the supervisor can help the student pinpoint the projects or work assignments that will help achieve the student’s objectives. Keep in mind that the learning objectives are not all about the student and should align with goals of the organization/department.

Note for returning interns: New learning opportunities must be determined by the student each semester. Returning students should be better able to analyze assignments to determine the challenge of newer, more specific learning objectives because they have deeper insights into the work environment and the opportunities therein.

Requirements:
1. Typed and double-spaced
2. Give evidence of thought and analysis of the worksite and assignments
3. The objectives are stated in specifics, not in broad generalizations
4. Your paper should show the same degree of professionalism you seek to display to your supervisor while carrying out your responsibilities on the job. It must be correctly spelled and punctuated, neat, clear, concise, and adequately developed.
5. Goal setting is essential to guide the learning process. In learning to identify objectives, you can then direct your experiences to accomplish more specific ends. Self-direction and self-evaluation are the means for professional development.

Criteria:
1. A learning objective is a statement which describes a result, or outcome, you wish to accomplish while on the internship assignment. It is not a statement of what one will do, but a statement of what one hopes to learn while doing tasks assigned.
2. Be as specific as possible about the learning goal. Describe the experiences in which you expect to be exposed to which you hope will result in the specified learning objective.
3. Match your learning objectives to your desired skillsets within your academic major

Categories:
1. Knowledge to be acquired
2. Skills to be developed (intellectual and functional)
3. Problems to be solved
4. Values to be clarified
